What Are Your Future Ambitions?

Feature Article by Jessica AbouZbib (G10)

Every ASM student anticipates being asked or is asked the following question at some point...

“What do you want to do when you are an adult?”

The important idea is to note and improve your strengths and weaknesses as an individual in order to accomplish your future dream.

There are many careers out there so make sure to do some research!

What are some steps that you should take?

- ❖ Think about the results that you want to see at the end
- ❖ Create an action plan
- ❖ Note your strengths
- ❖ Work on your weaknesses
- ❖ Take advice from individuals (adults) you trust that can help you reach your goal

Another thing to keep in mind is that the IB is hopefully starting next school year and knowing your interest in certain subjects will be essential for your future. Taking certain classes is a key for reaching your career goals.

Make sure to research!!!

For some students, this is early but there isn't plenty of time; as James Wan said, “It's scary to know how fast time flies.”

Continue working hard and organizing your time because nothing comes the easy way.
